

On Monday evening, August 27, a delightful shower was given in the church parlors for Miss Margaret Ristad, a bride-to-be. The decorations of the rooms were in yellow and white, which color scheme was artistically carried out in the table decorations. Small lawpies, dressed as brides, were placed in each window. In the center a white parasol was suspended, from which yellow streamers were run to places at the table. A profusion of garden flowers were also used in the decorations. A buffet luncheon was served, after which Little Helen Greenland wheeled in the gifts for the bride in a carriage. Mrs. West made the presentation speech.
