

Married

It is not unusual to hear of people getting married, but it is something out of the ordinary when it concerns two young people, who for the first unite hearts and hands for life. No event is of so great importance as this one, launching two young people out on the sea of matrimony together, because history and experience teach that such events make for well or woe. We trust and hope that the event of last Sunday may be one, far-reaching for good, for joy and prosperity. The contracting parties united in the bonds of Holy wedlock were Eugene W. Sperry and Emma Amanda Norswing. The groom is a young man well and favorably known to the people of Binford and surrounding country. He has for sometime been Manager in the office of The BINFOND TIMES. Mr. Sperry is known as a man of good habits, industrious and faithful. A man is often judged by his appearance, and if appearance is not misleading in the estimate of our fellows characters, then we have reasons to believe we have sized up this young man correctly. His quiet and unassuming disposition betrays an honest and a well-balanced temperament.

The bride is a young lady, who came from Minnesota in the neighborhood of Kenyon. She has for sometime been employed as assistant postmaster in this village. She made her home Mr. O. S. Gunderson and family, and it was at the home of her employer, the wedding ceremony was performed. The ceremony was witnessed only by a few immediate friends. The ceremony was performed at noon by Rev. J. M. Jenson of Coopers-town. After the ceremony was over a wedding dinner was served.

The two young people will make Binford their temporary, perhaps permanent home. They start out in life under favorable auspices, and their many friends wish them much joy on their journey.
