

Knute Norswing arrived here last Thursday from Davonport to attend to his farm interests near here. It may be of interest to Knute's many friends in this community to know that he was married about four months ago. Mr. Norswing left again on Monday for his home, being unable to secure a renter for his farm here.