While attending to business matters in Fargo, Tuesday, H. B. Hanson received the message bearing the news of the sudden death of his father, H. M. Hanson, here. When Helmer left home Monday his father was enjoying his usual good health, and the news of his death the following day was a terrible shock to him. He returned home Wednesday and was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. M. O. Wallum, of Lakota, who had also been summoned by the sad news.
