

Henry Asmus brought his little daughter, Dorothy, into town to consult Dr. Truscott, Tuesday evening. About two weeks ago the little girl hurt her foot when it was caught in the screen door, but nothing more was said about it until the other day when they discovered a lump forming. Upon examination it was found that a needle had been run into her foot and broken off. The part of the needle which Doctor extracted was better than an inch long.