

DOUBLE BILL FOR SUNDAY

COOPERSTOWN AND HANNAFORD TEAMS WILL PLAY LOCALS HERE

Baseball fans will get their "fill" next Sunday, on the home lot, when the local team will "take on" the teams from Hannaford and Cooperstown, in a double-header.

Both of these towns are supporting first-class ball teams. Hannaford has won all the games they have played so far this season, except the 1-0 game against Cooperstown last Saturday, and the opening game with the local team. Sutton has lost to them twice and Wimbledon has also met defeat at their hands. Cooperstown has made a good record, especially against the big towns, winning from Fargo, Valley City and Jamestown, but losing twice to Apeta and once to McHenry. Sunday will be the first time this season that Cooperstown and Binford will clash.

Manager Larson has announced that Hannaford will be played first, beginning promptly at two o'clock. The new state law, legalizing Sunday baseball, prohibits playing later than six o'clock, but with the first game starting promptly on time, both of the games can be played within the time limit. The Cooper game will be played immediately following the first. Remember the first game starts promptly at two o'clock.

A charge of 50c will be made for the two games. Other towns are making this a regular admission charge for single games.

Next Sunday afternoon—put this in your hat.
