

Pekin Budget: Last Sunday we drove to Binford really only to see an honest-to-goodness ball game again, and we did. Binford and Sutton had one of their spats, and those boys do not play for the fun of it either. That day the teams were well matched, and the scores fluctuated wonderfully during the day, with the tally 6 to 3 in favor of Sutton at the opening of the 8th inning. Uncertain as a ball game always is, Sutton had bad luck this inning and Binford crossed the home plate four times, holding their opponents out in the 9th inning and winning the game by one score, to the great chagrin of the Sutton fans who swore they would come back with the most crushing revenge at the fair. Really we enjoyed the game and feel better now that we know that the good old game is not dead as we had feared it was.
