

OPENING GAME NEXT SUNDAY

Local Base Ball Team Will Play Its First Game on Home Grounds With McHenry Team.

Binford will crank up its baseball machine next Sunday on the home grounds with McHenry as the opposing team.

Speaking of machines, we don't just know whether we're going in for a lowly flivver class or whether it will be one of the best models and hitting on all cylinders. Personally, The Times is inclined to believe that it will be the latter, and we have good reasons for that belief. Binford has always supported one of the best teams in the state with very little expense compared with other localities, and we think this season is going to be no exception. Last year, owing to the war, practically all the teams were made up of home boys and, as usual, Binford maintained its reputation in that class—but the show over there is over and a little faster brand of baseball seems to be the desire. Most of the nearby towns have already secured battery men. Although nothing along that line has been done here, we feel confident that Binford isn't going to take a licking from the other teams without letting them know they've been in a fight. Them's our sentiments.

In Sunday's opener, Olstad, Anderson and Sletten may take a turn in the box, with Alfred Alfson on the receiving end. Ehlers will play first, Anderson on second, Doc Ringlee on short, probably Thorn on third, and Alfson, Peterson, Hanson and Knapp to choose from for the outfield.

McHenry's line-up is not known, but it is reported they will have a salaried battery.

Come out to the game Sunday. The boys need your support and they play better to a packed house anyway.
