

Druggist Anderson has installed a handsome new "Red Cross" soda fountain in the drug store the past week. The fountain is very simple in construction and built of opal onyx and carrara, a substance harder than marble and thus easier to keep clean and sanitary. The interior such as the workboards, pump tops, etc., are of nickel silver, and so constructed that there are no closed spaces where dirt and odors can gather. Mr. Anderson will now be able to carry on his extensive ice cream and soda water business better than ever, and in consequence will also be enabled to give the quickest possible service.
