

line of beautiful cards.

Binford's new garage is rapidly attaining its proposed proportions. A crew of bricklayers from Jamestown, assisted by local workers, are putting in every minute of time and by the end of the week the building will be enclosed and the interior finishing will then go on. The Times will have more to say in a later issue of this asset to Binford's business houses.

standing out prominently among