

Anton Larson and family and Chris Larson departed Tuesday for Luck, Wisconsin, where they will make their future homes. Enroute they will stop off at Tower City for a brief visit with friends. These estimable people have many friends who regret their removal from Binford, but their good wishes go with them in their new home.

Maurer hotel experienced a narrow escape from fire Monday afternoon, when the head broke off a lighted match and fell into the bed clothes in one of the rooms upstairs, and set them on fire. Smoke issuing from the second floor attracted the attention of the owners, who formed a bucket brigade and in a short time had the fire extinguished before much damage was done.

Paul and Jake Messner, who were traveling thru here on their way to Tolna from Valley City, Sunday, had a narrow escape from injury when their auto turned turtle south of town. The gentlemen didn't know of the abrupt turn in the road south of Thune's, and coming at a good rate of speed they missed it and were thrown into the ditch. One wheel was broken off at the hub, and other damages done about the car, but the occupants were unhurt.
