

and all forms of coughs and colds should be given careful attention. There is now no apparent danger of the epidemic; and in view of the fact that all have had so much experience in combating it, there seems little probability of it's being so virulent as last fall if it does come.

Ringlee's store has donned its new fall clothes this week and is receiving many flattering comments on its chic appearance. They are having their annual fall opening this week and complete stocks in the various departments are being shown. Branches of autumn leaves adorn the ceiling, and figure in the window displays, giving the store a seasonable atmosphere. Especially beautiful are the four windows, exhibiting stocks of up-to-date dress goods, novelties, infants' apparel and mens' furnishings. Each window has its own color scheme, and is decorated with suspended baskets hung with streamers. Artistic landscape paintings in the background add the finishing touch to the metropolitan effect. The work of painting and decorating was the handiwork of Mr. Moen.

Again We Say

Subscribe
for THIS PAPER