

The Community Programs

The three programs given here Saturday and Sunday by the Federated Community Association were unquestionably the most entertaining and instructive ever held in this community.

Dr. Weber, in forceful lectures, presented the necessity of co-operation in the community. Co-operation between man and man, between town and country in order to obtain greater results from one's labor in producing better returns for the individuals and for the community as a whole.

By statistics he showed what could be accomplished through such co-operation, especially in the line of better education for the young people and better conditions for the agricultural population.

Dr. Weber is a strong advocate of community clubs as mediums through which to obtain improved conditions in the community.

At all three programs the Rudolph Company of Swiss Entertainers enlivened the occasion with many musical selections. These people are musicians of considerable merit, and their beautiful renditions of Swiss yodeling were especially appreciated by the audience.
