

The fire department was called out Friday to extinguish a small blaze which threatened the barn on the Bowe property. The fire started from live coals being thrown out in a pan of ashes and dumped near a pile of straw and rubbish. No damage was done.