

near future.

Postmaster Knapp has added some more improvements to his postoffice fixtures. He has installed a large sorting table and routing case to take the place of the old one, which had seen many years of service but has outgrown its usefulness since the rural routes have been established. Another improvement soon to be added is a steel desk in the lobby.

---

---