

Red Cross Old Clothing Drive.

Fifty investigators of the American Red Cross, working among refugees report that most of the families manage to nourish themselves on the government allowance and their small wages, but they are by no means able to clothe themselves.

At the present prices of clothing in France are prohibitive and the need for this kind of assistance is great. The refugees must look to the outside world for help. Even though they had the raw materials they would still be helpless because of the vandalism committed upon their textile industries by the Tuetons.

The time for this drive is during the week of March 31 to April 5.

The clothes wanted are men's, women's children's and infant's wear, including shirts, suits, underwear, shoes, sweaters, etc. Read posters. Leave your bundle at Buchheit-Bakken's store.
