

The Lutheran church was packed to the doors Saturday evening at the Christmas tree exercises. The children who took part did very well and an interesting program of songs and recitations was rendered. Rev. Bach was present and spoke a few words to the children about Christmas and its significance. The choir sang two selections. At the close of the program, the gifts were distributed and candy bags and apples passed among the audience.