

at place.

Finley Observer: Frank Bowe had the misfortune to smash both of his feet while working in his capacity with the Finley Light and Power plant. This is the second time he has been injured this year and we are ready to predict that while it costs $96.00 a year for his protection in the Workmen's Compensation Bureau, that he will not get enough to pay for the bandages that are required to wrap his injured feet.