

Jack Bowman returned to Binford last Thursday from Moline, Illinois, where he went in company with several other men, to be employed in the John Deere factory. Jack was employed at tunnel digging, which didn't appeal to him as a white man's job.

... of the Local Red Cross