

Swen Gilbertson was in from his farm Monday for the first time since he was taken sick with the flu. He has lost considerable in weight, having been confined for about three weeks with the disease, which left him in a weakened condition.