Uncle Sam wants bigger crops and better farming methods this year. He has therefore appointed John Jackson as district farm agent for Foster, Eddy and Griggs counties with headquarters at Grace City. Mr. Jackson has had charge of the agricultural work at Henderson, Minnesota, for the past two years and before that time he was connected with the Western Minnesota Experiment station at Benson. He comes highly recommended and now it is for the people to make use of his services. If you have any problems which you think an agricultural expert can help you solve write or phone Mr. Jackson. His salary and all expenses are paid by the United States, his services are free and he is anxious to call and get acquainted. We hope the farmers of Griggs county will keep Mr. Jackson so busy here that he will have little time for other parts of his district.
