

SALE OF STAMPS WILL BE PUSHED

Plans Are Made for Systematic Check
Up of All Pledges During Next 60 Days.

George H. Hollister, state chairman of the War Savings campaign, attended the meeting of the state chairmen of the Ninth district called by Theo. Wold, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. Three representatives of the National War Savings committee from Washington were in attendance at the meeting who explained the progress in the department work, but the important purpose of the meeting was to discuss new methods of sale and securing fulfillment of the June pledges which are dragging in many places.

"Plans were laid for a systematic checkup," said Mr. Hollister, "of all pledges during the next 60 days. Next year there will be another issue of stamps of the same amount and nature. The 1919 stamps will be of purple, a little smaller in size and the certificate or card will be smaller and with one fold instead of two. In addition there will be issued next year a $100 certificate, similar in appearance to the Liberty bond, due in five years and costing $82.40 and increasing in value and cost, twenty cents each month. It will be redeemable on ten days notice at any time and will net the purchaser 4½ per cent at maturity.

"Another feature of handling the stamps hereafter will be that the stamps and the Liberty Bonds will be so closely co-related on any Liberty Loan drive. A. R. Rogers of Minneapolis will be chairman of both activities.

"War Savings Stamps, already owned will be credited on district quota and on individual allotments, so that if a person is allotted $1,000 for the year and has bought $400 of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds and $200 worth of War Savings Stamps, his Fifth Loan allotment will be $400.

"For the purchase of stamps and bonds, saving is essential and the following brings out the doctrine of goods and services completely: 'Do not buy unnecessary things and the material will be saved, labor in its manufacture will be conserved and the money that would have been spent will be available to loan to the government.' Periodical, monthly, weekly, purchase of War Savings stamps is the much desired habit to be acquired."
