

for the company at Forbes.

Rev. L. M. Halling is in Fargo at the bedside of his son, Markus, who is confined in a hospital following an operation performed for appendicitis two weeks ago. He was recovering from the effects of the operation but contracted influenza so is forced to remain there a while yet.