

issue of The Times.

Lewis Iverson and family went to Fargo yesterday, where they will consult a specialist in the hopes of saving the thumb of the right hand of their little son. While hoisting hay into the barn, the little fellow got hold of one of the carrier ropes and failed to release his grip until he was carried clear to the top and his thumb pinched in the block. The ligaments were badly torn.

The list of adulterated and mis-