

them for a few days.

The concert given Thursday night at the opera house by Nina and Hugo Johnson was well attended and thoroughly appreciated. Both musicians have risen to the rank of artists and under their skill, the wonderful piano and accordeons seem more than mere instruments. A dance was enjoyed after the concert.