

Examined.

Private Harry Sorvik arrived here last Thursday, having been honorably discharged from service. When he landed in England, he was suffering from an attack of the influenza, and spent most of the time abroad in the hospital. He says he feels fine and is glad to be home again.