

SUTTON NEWS

Arrangements are now being made to organize a Rebekah lodge in Sutton. A charter list has been sent for and in a few weeks it is expected that a full fledged Rebekah lodge will be instituted. This, as most all know, is the ladies' auxiliary to the I. O. O. F. lodge, and as this order has become quite large here, the ladies' lodge will doubtless have a good list of charter members for a beginning.

F. R. Weber, representing the National Federal Community clubs was in Sutton this week, and Tuesday night gave a lecture explaining the organization and outlining plans for community entertainments during the coming year. His proposition met with considerable favor and it is virtually decided that a part of the course, at least, will be taken on here.

Geo. E. Howden has recently sold a fine pure bred yearling Holstein heifer of his own raising, which was purchased by Fred Sinclair of Leavenworth, Washington, the price paid being $450. The dam of this heifer, and eight of her sisters have records ranging from 25 to 30 pounds of butter in seven days. She is of the Segis line of breeding, Cornucopia Colantha, Jr., being the the sire of the first cow to produce 31,000 pounds of milk in a year. In other words, she produced over 15,000 quarts of milk or an average of more than 50 quarts a day during a year's milking period. He also sold his fine three year old bull, for which he received $300. George has a two-year-old heifer which he could have sold for $500 had not the distance been too great for safety in shipping a cow giving milk. And yet people say it does not pay to raise fine milk cows. There is no greater opportunity for money making to be found in North Dakota than this business if managed properly.—Reporter.
