

Lightning struck the Truscott residence yesterday and tore things up considerably. No one was at home at the time.