

Four small children of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Watne, who live southwest of town, had a narrow escape from death Monday evening. While wondering around in a slough they picked some wild parsnips and ate them, becoming very ill. The

---

---