

Harwell E. West went to Chicago, Monday, where he will resume his former position as associate editor of the Lone Scout. Harwell has been at home since Thanksgiving having received his discharge, then, from further service in the navy.

Probably the busiest people in