

The Times is in receipt of a letter from Harold Wilson, dated at Bellingham, Wash., in which he stated that he was sailing for Alaska, on April 3, to be employed for several months in the fish industry in the north.