

might as well finish the job.

Sam Holm, a farmer living a few miles southwest of Hamar, N. D., committed suicide Friday October 28 by blowing out his brains. Despondency over hard times and low market prices is assigned as the cause. He leaves a wife and two small children.

Sentinel Courier: A party of young