COLLEGE SENDS FILMS

TO LEGION POSTS

American Legion posts in North Dakota may secure films from the bureau of Economics at Washington through the Visual Instruction Service at the Agricultural College. Director A. P. Hollis of the service announces, "It has been made the distributing agency in the state for the bureau's films. The bureau now has 21 films with the service, most of them expositions of various industries of the United States. These films, as well as the other films distributed by the service, costs the posts only the transportation charges."
