

The Standard garage has been leased by J. L. Moore to Geo. Chevrolet and A. S. Allison, the transfer to be made as soon as Mr. Allison arrives from Bangor, Sash., and inventory has been made. Mr. Chevrolet has also made arrangements to establish a cream station in connection, and will give his personal attention to that department, and also to the sale of parts and oils. Mr. Moore expects to return to Ellingsworth as soon as he can close up his affairs here. The new lessees are popular young men, and the Times trusts their new venture will be crowned with success.
