

"Peg o' my Heart," a three-act comedy play given by the seniors of the Hannaford high school last Friday evening drew a fair sized crowd, and proved to be one of the best school plays ever shown here. The young performers were very good in their various roles, every one of them acquitting themselves with such success that it would be impossible to pick one more effective than the rest. The musical numbers by the Hannaford orchestra which interspersed the acts and closed the performances, was also of high merit, and added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. They likewise furnished the music for the dance that followed the show.
