

our migratory birds.

Miss May Brill, who has been the very efficient and accommodating assistant postmistress in Binford for the past five years, has resigned her position, effective today, and will leave soon for Minneapolis to assume a life's engagement. Postmaster Peterson loses a valuable assistant, and the patrons of the office will regret the departure of Miss Brill, who has served them so faithfully and obligingly during the past years.

A large number of friends gather-