

NEW SAVING CERTIFICATES ARE HERE

Postmaster J. A. Knapp has announced that he has received from the department a supply of the new Treasury Saving Certificates. These certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $100, and $1000 maturity value and pay interest at the rate of about 4 1/2 per cent compounded semiannually. Postmaster Knapp looks for increasing popular purchase of the new security due to the many attractive features.

While the new certificates were placed on sale for the first time Dec. 15th word has been received from the Third Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover that the demand has far exceeded the expectations of the Savings Division of the Treasury and over 150 first and second class offices have already called for additional supplies. Certificates are being distributed as rapidly as possible to first, second and third class offices.

The price of the certificates are $20 for the $25 maturity value, $80 for the $100 maturity value and $800 for the $1,000 maturity value. The certificates mature five years from date of issue in every case and carry a redemption privilege whereby the holder may if he desires cash his holdings before maturity in which case the rate of interest is 3 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually. They are exempt from local taxation and normal Federal income tax.

Certificates of issue in the name of the purchaser who is protected against loss of any kind. Another new feature of these certificates, is the provision whereby individuals, firms, fraternal organizations and other associations may purchase up to $5,000 maturity value of certificates issued during the calendar year.

The issue is offered as a part of the unified savings plan to be conducted by the Postoffice and Treasury departments. Under the new arrangement postal savings may be used toward the purchase of Treasury Savings Certificates.

Thrift and Savings Stamps were withdrawn from sale on December 31, 1921.
