

Can spare some of my new clean Swedish Select oats for seed. Went 75 bushels per acre. Also some nice turkey hens for sale reasonable.—
John Pederon, Binford. 36

Word was received here this week of the death of Carl E. Talmadge, of New England, this state. Mr. Talmadge was a former resident of Binford, having been employed in the First State bank in the early days.

A blizzard, the fury of which has not been seen here for many years, struck the western part of the state Monday and working eastward struck Binford shortly after midnight Monday and when our residents awoke Tuesday morning it was working about as strenuously as any has in the memory of our "oldest inhabitant." The storm increased during the day and continued with the same intensity until Thursday, giving us three days storm with little or no cessation. There was no train on the branch until late Saturday evening, after the rotary had opened up the road for them.

The Rogers Citizen tells about an accident which happened to Jack Hanson of that place. Mr. Hanson will be remembered by many Binford people as the man who wrestled with Joe Alberts, the Strong Man, here
