

The ladies of the local Rebekah lodge held their annual sale of fancy articles last Friday evening at the opera house. While the attendance was not as good as in former years, the bidding was good, so that all the articles were sold, bringing the ladies $192.75. Mr. Lewis was the auctioneer. Midnight supper was served at Prosser's Cafe, after which dancing was enjoyed by a fair sized crowd. About $25.00 was realized from the sale of dance tickets.
