Editor-in-chief—Evelyn Amundson.

The Universe has been the subject for discussion in the General Science class. The various planets have been considered as parts of our solar system in this study also.

The main experiment assigned in General Science for last week was to observe the moon's changes for a period of one month. Unless the clouds disappear, observations will be poor.

The Agriculture class is expending its efforts in the study of farm machinery and its care. The girls display a great deal of knowledge along this line and certainly enjoy the work very much.

The experiments in Agriculture at this time deal chiefly with soils, and the effect of certain conditions on the various kinds of soil.

The History class has completed this semester's work and have commenced a thorough review of what they have covered.

Last Friday afternoon a few hours were devoted to Field Day. The object was to determine who should enter the athletic events on Play Day, May 24th.

The high school boys are practicing baseball regularly, or as often as the weather permits, and if they get warmed up they expect to play a game against Cooperstown on Play Day.

The present newspaper staff has served a month and a new staff will be appointed to serve for the rest of the term.
