

Leo Dahlin is a patient at St. John's hospital in Fargo, having undergone an operation for apper-dicitis last Thursday. Reports from there say that he is recovering rapidly from the effects of the operation, which is good news to his many friends.