

Casper Erickson, a threshing hand employed on the Tuffeland-Ronn-gen rig, met with a painful accident Monday evening. He had been on top of the separator performing some duties, and in alighting to the ground he jumped backward striking a crowbar that was standing perpendicularly. The injury was so severe that he was removed to the hospital at McVille, where an operation was performed. Word from there yesterday was to the effect that the operation was successful, and that it is probable the injured man will recover. Mr. Erickson is from Fillmore county, Minnesota.
