

dered them.

Attorney Frank Gladstone, of Dupree, South Dakota, former states attorney of Griggs county, called on Binford friends Tuesday. Mr. Gladstone was up to attend to the threshing on his farm. He left Coopers-town in 1910 and has been located at Dupree since, this being only his second trip to Griggs county, in those years. Mr. Gladstone has been interested in following the political situation in North Dakota, and can see that conditions in his own state are much better for the farmer. In fact, he states, there are very few Nonpartisans in his part of the state. Farmers in South Dakota have taken advantage of the rural credits act of that state to a much greater extent than is being done through the Bank of North Dakota for our farmers, and they have practically no difficulty in disposing of their state bonds