

coll who set the injured member.

In letters to relatives in Binford Frank Grigsby writes that he stopped in Arizona instead of going to California to find work. He is at the present time firing on a switch engine for the railroad. His family will remain here until spring, when they plan to join him out there.

Cooperstown merchants held their