

Martin Gudmundson and family came down from McHenry, last week, and are now living in the new garage building recently completed, until more suitable quarters can be obtained.