

JESSIE NEWS

The meeting held by the Jessie Community club on Saturday evening was one of remarkable interest and pep. The outstanding feature was the debate between Jacob Eggerman and C. P. Dahl. The question of debate was "Is a county agent of value to the community?" Mr. Eggerman debated the affirmative with Dahl on the negative. The vote cast by the three judges was one for the affirmative and two for the negative. Altho one side had to lose, Mr. Eggerman put up some fine arguments and gave valuable information to his listeners. Mr. Dahl, however, outdid his opponent in delivery and injected pep into the debate. Without a doubt all enjoyed it and we hope to have these gentlemen give another debate before spring.

Sale on Horse Blankets at Retzlaff & Rickford's at $5.95 a pair; 60x72, two sureingles with heavy buckles; duck with heavy lining. Fine value.

The masquerade and basket social held in the Jessie hall on Thursday evening was a success and netted the club $59.

Mr. Albert Rickford and Mrs. M. Buelow were Cooperstown visitors on Monday.

Children's woolen hose on sale at 50c and up, at Retzlaff & Rickford. All sizes.

Fred Rickford was a Cooperstown passenger Friday, returning Saturday.

Miss Tena Hovel was given a surprise Friday evening, the occasion being her birthday.