

JESSIE NEWS

Mrs. E. J. Collette and daughters of Cooperstown, were Jessie visitors Monday. They intend to spend the week with friends and relatives in the community.

Albert Retzlaff was a passenger to Cooperstown on Tuesday.

Rev. Bonhoff of Valley City was a Jessie visitor on Tuesday.

Come in and look over our new Le Tour du Nord and Apple Web gingham.—Retzlaff and Rickford, Jessie.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Buelow left on Tuesday for Mirror, Canada, where they will make their home. They have been visiting at Mrs. Buelow's home for some weeks after their wedding in January. The community wishes them well in their new home for many prosperous and happy years.

Manley Ressler returned from Rogans, Tuesday, where he had been visiting friends.

Miss Gerda Watne returned from Cooperstown Friday.

Fred Tollefson suffered a heavy loss Monday evening while absent from the house. The stove became overheated and ignited. The interior of the house was aflame before the fire was discovered. Luckily a pump was near the house and held enough water to quell the flames and check the fire, which was finally put out. Everything was damaged to a great extent and it is doubtful if it is worth while repairing.

Mrs. Graham McCulloch entertained a number of friends in honor of Mr. McCulloch's birthday, Monday.

Eugene Wild spent a few days last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Wild of this city.

Last Saturday a large number of relatives living in this vicinity, went to Cooperstown to attend the funeral of Mr. Lowe. The death of Mr. Lowe was rather sudden, as his friends and relatives had been expecting him.