

Carl Knutson arrived here Saturday from Bemidji, Minnesota, where he had been employed in the woods since last fall. "Shorty" says that wages for labor were very low this winter due to the great number of unemployed men demanding work.

Word reached this city Friday of