

C. J. Krogfoss, banker of Granville, came from Minneapolis, Saturday, to spend a few days with relatives. He returned to his home Monday. Carl states that most of the farmers in his territory have been fortunate in having a flock of turkeys to sell, and that many are realizing a good sized sum from bees.

H. E. West son of Mr. and Mrs.