

A heavy hail storm visited the Red Willow lake region last Sunday and killed a few chickens belonging to F. G. Lewis, besides giving those who were spending the day at the lake a good scare.

Thoroughly over